Malala Yousafzai born 12 July 1997 is a Pakistani activist for female education and the youngest Nobel Prize laureate. Yousafzai was born in Mingora, Khyber Pakhtunkhwa, Pakistan. Her family came to run a chain of schools in the region. Considering Jinnah and Benazir Bhutto as her role models, she was particularly inspired by her father's thoughts and humanitarian work. In early 2009, when she was 11–12, she wrote a blog under a pseudonym for the BBC Urdu detailing her life during the Taliban occupation of Swat. The following summer, journalist Adam B. Ellick made a New York Times documentary about her life as the Pakistani military intervened in the region.

On 10 October 2014, Yousafzai was announced as the co-recipient of the 2014 Nobel Peace Prize for her struggle against the suppression of children and young people and for the right of all children to education. Having received the prize at the age of 17, Yousafzai is the youngest Nobel laureate.

Last Few Rays of Sunshine

Neshat Nabila Zaman, Grade-XII

In a few days, it will be the last time I wake up reluctantly in the morning to put on my uniform, pack my bag and go to school. It will be the last time I stand in line to sing the national anthem during assembly, the last time I'll sit in class cursing the clock and praying for the bell to ring. As I write this, it feels as if the air is being sucked out of my lungs. Somehow through all the college applications and exam stress, I failed to realize that the golden days are coming to an end. Years turned into months and months to days and now we are here hanging by a thread waiting to fall into the trap of reality.

Standing here at the biggest turning point of my life so far, there are a lot of emotions and thoughts racing through my mind. On one hand, my school life, something I have known for my entire life, is inevitably coming to an end. On the other, I am going to college, my first step into the real world. It is heart-breaking to think that all the familiar faces are no longer going to be around to guide and shelter me. My mother will not be there to nag me for not eating enough vegetables, my father will not be there to fulfil my every demand, my friends will no longer be there to make me laugh until I cry and last but not the least, Debashish sir will no longer be there to solve every little math problem and listen to my famous line, 'Sir, amake diye hobe na'. I might not be the best, but whatever I achieved in life is all dedicated to these people. They made me whom I am today, and I have never been more proud of myself.

As bitter as it is to leave all this behind, I am excited to enter my new chapter. As clichéd as it might sound, life goes on and we have to hustle to keep up with the pace. It's how it feels the same everyday but when we look back everything has changed. I do not know what the future holds and it is definitely not going to be a smooth ride. But the blood, sweat, and tears are going to be worth it when I know that I have made my loved ones proud and lived up to their expectations. So, with a mind full of memories playing like a cinema and heart heavy with mixed emotions, I am taking a leap. Wish me luck because I need it. A lot.

Niharika Howlader, Grade-XII

Everyday you either wake up to the annoying sound of your alarm or your parents waking you up, but. Imagine waking up to the sound of gunfire, or helicopters, that might be bombing your area or your neighbourhoods. Imagine questioning yourself whether you'll wake up the next morning, whether you'll be able to make it through the night. Imagine living in constant fear of losing your parents and your loved ones, not getting any proper meals, a place to sleep, because your house had been destroyed by an airstrike. Thus living in constant fear of death, everyday. You can't go out to play with your friends after school, because you're frightened by the sound of mortar shells and explosions and you can't go to school, not because you're sick, because it isn't safe. That's the life of approximately 75,000 childrens, in Syria. These childrens will have to fight for survival everyday, for them, this'll be their childhood memories, if they get to live that long to recall all these, that is. They're forced to scrounge for leaves and animal foods for survival; a mother was prevented from crossing a checkpoint to get help for her baby and had to wait for 5 hours to get help, the baby died. Childrens are dying due to lack of inadequate medicines and healthcare. Firstly, they've been asked to cut down their meals by half, then they can't barely find any meals, therefore, children have died due to malnutrition.

You've definitely seen some of the videos about these on the social medias. It definitely broke your heart to see the 5-year-old bloodied Syrian boy in an ambulance who captivated the world. I know we can't do much, but the least we can do is donate, and try to raise more awareness by ourselves among the people we know and can reach. It all starts with one person and that might be you.

SCHOOL ACTIVITIES

Wordbridge School celebrated "Older Person's Day" to pay respect to our senior citizens so that they can feel their importance in the family.

Study Tour is a part of the Wordbridge School curriculum. These field trips enhance the knowledge and confidence level of our students.

Excursion is another name for Study Tour. The students of Class-XII have gone to visit Sylhet for excursion. Their looks can show how much they were enjoying their trip. Staying a night in Grand Sultan is a grand final touch of the tour!

The End of the Beginning

Sidratul Muntaha, Grade-XII

16 years later, I'm exiting the doors of my school the same way I first entered; reluctant and with tears in my eyes. Thinking about the last two years of my life at a new school, an unfamiliar place with a few known faces, a rollercoaster of emotions is storming inside me. The overriding one, however, is gratitude. I'm thankful for the strangers who are no longer just that, for the bittersweet memories I'll be telling my grandchildren as bedtime stories, for every win and every lesson. At 15, I felt the world was at my feet just waiting to be conquered. Now, at 18, I am much more humble and equipped with the strength I need to fight my battles 'out in the real world'. And I know at 25, I'll be living carrying forward a legacy this school and its teachers have passed onto me, onto us. As this chapter of my life comes to an end, uncertainty about the future still prevails. Years from now, maybe we'll see each other on the news as CEO of 'Triq Industries' or maybe even the Prime Minister of Bangladesh, the face of change. There are still many pages left unturned, and opportunities to be seized. Drenched in the colours of nostalgia and optimism, this isn't a goodbye. This is a reminder; don't forget to remember us.

Sazia Tasnim, Grade-XII

Summer 2016's flashbacks remind me telling myself 'this is the most ill-advised decision my parents had made for my sake.' Going to Wordbridge, yes. But my 2018 self is immersed in the nostalgic memories of the wonderful days spent here.

Initially it took me days to adjust here. Being a new institution there were not as many students as I was used to being with, at my previous school. A new bunch of people, and some known ones, gradually became very close to one another. The first year was quite eventful. The school had something or the other to offer, new experiences and challenges. The highlights would definitely include the badminton tournaments every winter from morning to evening and I made new friends to play ludo with during my free periods, and to devour the tasteless canteen food. I learnt to make the most of what we have. We might have a comparatively small campus and small number of students, but the people here have big welcoming hearts. We discovered how friendships meant a million small things, we discovered how it is possible to scrape off decent grades with a little effort and hardwork.

The two aspiring human beings and teachers, Debashish Saha and Mohitur Rahman, left no stones unturned to give us the best in our classrooms as well as inject discipline into every notorious student. Being the first batch of Wordbridge to graduate did secure us a soft corner in the hearts of these teachers. Our time was limited as the good days passed too soon.

And now with an uncertain future beyond me, I know I have the barbaric world yet to face, but I will cherish all the bittersweet memories I have created in this place.

Mohammad Tarequr Rahman, Grade-XII

"It was a great journey with Wordbridge. These amazing two years with the institution is very special for me. All the amazing teachers and my batch mates, we have all become a family! I would like to thank Dr. Mohitur Sir who has guided me throughout this whole journey and has showered me with his love and blessings. Shout-out to Qumrun Nessa Miss for taking care of us like a parent in our Sylhet Batch Trip. Best wishes for Wordbridge for its just the start of its great journey!"

SCHOOL ACTIVITIES

Now a days Good parenting is a very crucial problem of our society as our children can use the bad side of advanced technology in many ways. Wordbridge school arranged the "Parenting Session" to solve these problems which received a great appreciation from the parents.

Just on the verge of Winter Vacation our students of different educational institutions have participated in a Badminton Tournament followed by a Bar B Q party after their Half Yearly Examinations which was totally arranged all by our students in the school premises. Well done boys!!!

Fariha Raisa, Grade-XII

You asked me the meaning of life
Our reason for existence here
I closed my eyes for a moment
Pondering what I can possibly tell you, my dear!

You see when I was young, my mother had a say
"Do your studies, my child and you will go far away"
I thought school was all and gave my very best
But something was missing, something hollow in my chest

Then came my dad, with his kind words
"Do favour to others, live through your works"
For it is in others that you find yourself
Discovering the truth that was sitting on the shelf

I finally realized the honest purpose of life
It is to find the soul that hides behind the strife
In all of us, you see, there lies a spirit of love
Unearthing this candle is the secret to inner dove

Hearing this, you went in search of your world
I heard stories of you, of your quest, of your thirst
I visioned to see you grow as you looked at the heart
Upon serving others, there was your rebirth.

Now you again come to me, grown and changed
I look at you with pride, as you show great strength
You show courage, honesty, empathy and compassion
I begin to ask you a question, a reason for such formation

You start to tell, a tale of many lands
Of the people you met in various time sands
"I see soul to soul, I hear agony, the joy"
You took a breath and said with a smile so coy

"Where lay the eternity, vast, pure and untouched
There heard the soul what was unheard
Where sky met the ground and ground met the sky
Behold, now! For the soul had too learnt to fly"

SCHOOL ACTIVITIES

Don't think that Children's Day is only for the children; all the teachers and staff of the school also enjoyed the day by selling & buying food, drinks and cupcakes, children were on the jumping jack for the whole day!

The Final Hour

Nur-E Ferdous, Grade-XII

After so many years, it is finally time for me and my peers to graduate. I am a student of Class XII and my final exams are right around the corner. This means that in a few months, I will be leaving the comfort and familiarity of Wordbridge and will be stepping into a new world of knowledge, opportunities and lots of anxiety. Although at the time, school seems to be difficult, I am aware that when we will be faced with the reality of “the last day of school”, we will leave the gates of this building with heavy hearts.

I have made uncountable memories during the last two years. There have been highs, such as, making new friends, taking part in numerous events and in general, having a good time inside and outside the classroom. There have also been lows. I have learned new things academically but also personally. Wordbridge has helped me grow and being mature as a human being. Being in the company of great classmates, I have seen and felt teamwork, friendship and support. Faculty and staff members have all taught us something new every single day, preparing us further for the hardships of the real world. I will always be able to say that I was one of the first students of this institution and my journey has been incredible, a rollercoaster of emotions.

Now, looking towards the future, I hope to find success and expand my knowledge. I also hope that I can exit Wordbridge’s doors with blessings, respect and love that will continue to motivate me through all future obstacles life will present.

Proud To Be A Member of the Wordbridge Family

Sadia Akter, Grade-XII

It was an amazing experience in Wordbridge. I still remember the very first day when I entered this school all alone. There were known faces all around but still so unknown. But as the time passed, we all became closer to each other and I am very much lucky because now I have made some true friends who are not fake and they all have pure hearts and are so helpful, caring and funny.

Therefore, I heartily thank Mohit Sir and Debashish Sir for bringing me to Wordbridge. They have always guided me, supported me and always tried their best to fulfill all our wishes and give us the best.

But now it’s time to leave. The last few days I spent in Wordbridge will always be the most memorable days for me. All the fun we had during the rag day rehearsals and all the love we shared will always be in our hearts. I did not even realize how time flew so fast and now that I have to leave Wordbridge and my friends I feel like starting all over again. “GIVE ME ANOTHER CHANCE AND I WANNA GROW UP ONCE AGAIN”.

Therefore, I hope and pray that Wordbridge in future becomes more successful and becomes one of the best schools in Dhaka city because Wordbridge has the best education faculties and amazing teachers.

I am proud to be a member of the Wordbridge family and will always be proud to say that we are the first batch of this wonderful Wordbridge School. There will always be a big smile on my face whenever I cherish these wonderful memories.

Thank you Wordbridge for everything.

SCHOOL ACTIVITIES

16th December is the "Victory Day" of Bangladesh. This special day was celebrated by the students and teachers of Wordbridge School in a very colourful manner.

Wordbridge School arranged Winter Fest to observe the day with pithas, cultural program and project displays related to climate. There was also a snowman standing beside the gate to greet the guests.

Aquib Abrar, Grade-XII

The very first time when I stepped into Wordbridge premises, I never expected this place to give me so much of memories which I will be able to cherish throughout my life. I still remember I wanted this college life to end as soon as possible in the very first day and now that it is about to finish it has left me with teary eyes. It's been an emotional 2 years ride for me. The experiences and opportunities that Wordbridge had gifted is something that I will be indebted forever. We were lucky to have formed the very first Wordbridge school football team. Our very first interschool tournament which was in Pledge Harbour School was rather a very different experience that I was blessed to have. We were confident enough to beat BIT in our very first match representing this school. Moments like that are what I live for. Along with it, I am thankful to Mohitur Rahman Sir for granting us to host Wordbridge Badminton Festival and providing us with everything that was needed to make the event successful. I am pretty sure we were able to make the tournament one of a kind. Lastly the sylhet tour has a very special part of my heart. Those magical 5 days were one of the best memories of my life. Special thanks to Qumrunnessa Miss for treating us with so much love and affection and making sure that we don't have any sort of problems. Words actually cannot describe how great my journey in Wordbridge has been. I would like to thank Debashish sir who has been a man of his word since the very beginning and whom I idolise everyday along with Mohitur Rahman Sir for giving us this opportunity to study in Wordbridge. Best wishes and hope this school achieves a lot of milestone in the near future. Lastly I would like to give shoutout to Wohiduzzaman Sir our games teacher who has been very kind in these 2 years, Bikram bhai and all the other support staff. Signing off.
